CHALLENGING the public perception of mining's future and alluding to hidden gems about to be revealed is the focus of the CHDC's Business Breakfast on Friday, June 19.

The breakfast, themed The Business of Mining: A Fresh Take, will feature presentations from Kestrel Mine general manager Daniel Van der Westhuizen, Richland Resources chief executive Bernard Oliver and Queensland Resources Council chief executive Michael Roche.

The trio will address current market conditions, the Galilee Basin and branding of the Gemfields' sapphires for global sale.

To register, go to www.chdc.com.au or phone 4982 4386.
